Can you collect information for a colour survey?

We would like you to help your child complete a colour survey. All they need to do is use the table below to ask each family member their favourite colour and draw a line in the box, then add how many are in each colour. To extend this activity you could introduce how to use a tally.

Here are some questions to ask your child:

- What colours can you name?
- Why do people like different colours?
- What colour makes you think about the sunshine? grass? family?
- What is the most and least popular colour?
